

Brett DePaola

Professor of Physics, Kansas State University

Science Advising at the U.S. Department of State: Do They Listen?

Monday,
September 12, 2011
4:30 PM

Cardwell Hall Room 102

Science Advising at the U.S.
Department of State: Do They Listen?

Every year the U.S. Department of State brings in a small group of scientists charged with keeping U.S. foreign policy scientifically sound. Do the policy makers actually listen to the scientists? What's it like giving science advice to U.S. policy makers? We will discuss this and other aspects of being a science advisor in the State Department.

Dr. Brett DePaola

Open to Public Physics Department Lecture