

Der Yang and Fennah Guan wish you all to have good holiday and a wonderful new year!

Seeing classmate's reunion at Harvard Square reminds me the good time we had 2 years ago there. I went along with Fennah who was invited to have a talk in Harvard Library. We visited the campus, met some old and new friends there but failed to see Peter since I forgot his phone even though I asked a professor in NMR lab there.

The year of 2009 is an excited one for us. Besides my quarterly visit to South China and Manila, we also had a pure vacation in China, touring Jiou Zhai Go, Huang Lung, O-Mei, Zhang Jia Jie. The landscapes are international class and spectacular. The trip was but also tough, particularly in Huang Lung.

Fennah is busy in her Fennah Guan Foundation with bimonthly book club activity. She attended oversea women writer conference in Taipei and had a chance to meet Mr. Ma in the presidential palace.

I will visit the twin city in Minnesota in late Aug 26- Sept 3, 2011 to accompany Fennah to give her VIP talk to NATIONAL TAIWAN UNIVERSITY EARLY GRADUATES ASSOCIATION. Hope we can meet Fang-Bei or other alumni there.

After living in condo for six years, thought retiring was at corner, we reverse the trend by moving back to a house. Currently we are in process of remodeling, packing, and moving in Jan 3, 2011. Life is hectic but exciting. This means I will continue working for several more years.

Wish all classmates to have healthy and happy life. Keep in touch.
